RTV 4910, Media Undergraduate Research, is a course designed to provide students with an opportunity for firsthand, supervised research. "Research" is defined as mentored, but self-directed, work that enables individuals or a small group to explore an issue of interest to them and to communicate the results to others.

To qualify for this credit, you should undertake areas of study or do a research project not normally done in regularly scheduled RTV courses. You are expected to work on an individual basis with a professor to accomplish a project commensurate with the credit hours requested (i.e., students who receive more credit will carry out a larger, more ambitious project).

NATURE OF RESEARCH PROJECT / AREA OF STUDY (Be specific):

Approximate number of hours of work per week: _____

Name & Title of Supervising Instructor: _____

Individual Projects are expected to be completed within the semester of registration. A grade of "I" (incomplete) will be given only in unusual circumstances where failure to complete the project was beyond the student's control. Incomplete projects will be graded by the appropriate deadline reflecting the student's amount and quality of work.

I have read the above and understand all that is required in doing a research project.
